

After my last letter, things have been getting worse here at S.V.O.P. due to my current health problems I'm subject to all sorts of mental and physical abuse. I keep getting in medical slips to see the doctor and so far it's been going on three weeks now and still haven't seen the doctor.

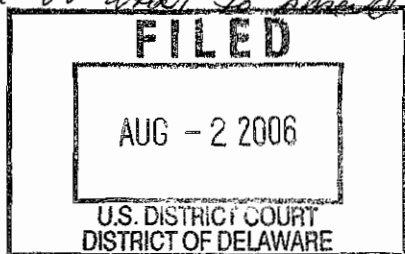

I have a bad lower back, and arthritis in my spine and I have had injections in my spine for pain. Also when they did my gall bladder operation, they gave me a hernia in my upper chest and it bothers me all the time, I have concern about this problem constantly.

I got caught laying on the floor because they don't want you laying on your bed in the day-time and I had to stand with my mattress for over a half hour, and now I'm really in pain, this is the second time that this is happen to me, but that's the only time that my chest doesn't hurt me, if I'm standing up or laying down, it really hurts if I'm sitting up to long, and the doctor told me himself that most likely I would have to get another operation to correct the problems.

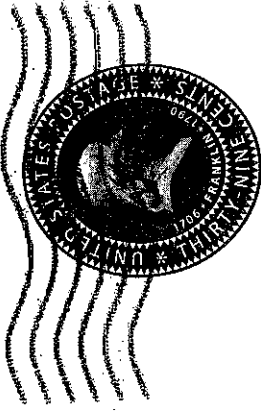

C/O Chaplin who made me stand on line, even after I told him that I couldn't hold or carry the mattress that I was laying on, but he didn't want to hear it and I was to afraid to say no for fear that he would spray me with mace, spray, I fear for my health and well being in here all the time, the C/Os don't like people who have disabilities and they treat them like crap, when this C/O Chapman got done with me physically he started abusing me mentally, he called me a no dick mother fucker.

I have people here who would gladly come to court for me to be a witness, And it's not just me they abuse, there's a guy here, who's 54 years old who they put on a top bunk and he fell off, and broke his hip and ankle, now he'll probaby never walk right again, and they really treat him bad.

~~that~~ the worst part about the whole thing is if I was still at C.V.O.P. were I was suppose to be at in the first place, your allowed to lay down as much as you want, I told you before that there would be constant retaliation over this low suit, I at this time do what to amend it again, down here.

Sincerely Yours
